DR. LAW CURE
OUT IN PERSON
TO FIGHT WETS
 Haynes Leaves for Kentucky to Probe Fraudulent Release of Liquor.

By W. H. ATKINS.
 International News Service.
 Launching another crusade against liquor—this time in the distillery battleground—dry law chief Haynes today threw down a challenge and said that the power of enforcement of authorities will be used to combat "organized wet opposition." Haynes charged today that "wet propaganda for repeal of the dry laws is being directed by moneyed and brainy forces." He denounced the efforts of what he termed the "bootleg aristocracy" to undermine prohibition, and added, as he charged, by cultured and wealthy classes who hold enforcement in contempt.

Part of the failure of enforcement to attain a better record, Haynes said, is due to apathy of the public. In the judiciary, he said, "they are letting many judges are letting bootleggers go free or are imposing such light fines that the liquor handlers are encouraged to larger exploits. Commissioner Haynes also scored the latitude of prosecutors for delays in bringing cases to trial.
 The prohibition chief makes no boasts of when the conditions he exposes will be changed. He asserted that all progress is being made in drying up the country. But he said he needs a greater measure of public support in putting his program across.
 Haynes left today for Cincinnati, Louisville, Frankfort and other towns wanted as liquor producing centers. He wants to go direct to the source of liquor, and stop it quickly. He goes into the liquor centers, armed with a batch of reports containing charges that allege that millions of gallons of whiskey have been released from bond on fraudulent permits.
 In the course of the investigation, Haynes will be aided by a corps of experts who accompanied him. They are especially skilled in passing upon the validity of some of the distillery operations in recent months. There may be an effort to close some of them if the charges are upheld.

LOAN REFUNDING
BILL MAY PASS
HOUSE MONDAY

Mondell Sees Smooth Path for Measure Extending Payment of Allied Debts.

By International News Service.
 The loan refunding bill, which creates a refunding commission to make the settlements of the war debts into long-time maturity obligations, will pass the House on Monday, according to plans of the House Republican leaders expected today.
 It was expected that the House would be able to complete its work and vote on the bill yesterday. The course of the debate indicated that amendments would be submitted, one providing that the interest rate on the refunded obligations shall not fall below the costs of the loans from which the money was advanced, and another requiring ratification of any settlement plan by Congress before it shall become effective.
 It is expected that each of these and other similar amendments will be defeated.
 "We had five hours of general debate on the bill," said Mondell, "and the members were tired. It was realized that because of amendments to be offered, the debate indicated that it would be impossible to get a final vote on the bill for some hours. There is no special drive to get the bill through the House, and we decided to wait until Monday to take it up for the finishing touches."

BEATS HIS MOTHER WITH
HAMMER DURING ROBBERY
 SELLERSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 22.— Posses are being formed in Bucks county to search for Walter Zoda, twenty-four years old, who seriously injured his mother yesterday morning in an effort to steal $400 from her.
 According to the police, young Zoda planned Wednesday to take the money, which his mother had drawn from the bank the day before to pay off a mortgage. While searching for it he became angry. To silence her he struck her with a hammer. Her screams awakened her husband and the son fled without the money.
